The Republican Executive Joint Session Fails to Pan Out.

Mr. Filley Loses His Grip, and Mr. Crowell His Temper.

The Result Likely to Be Two Conventions in Sedalia.

The Hatch Case—A Disastrous Fire in East St. Louis.

Special to the Bazar.

St. Louis, Mo., March 11.

A futile attempt was made to day in this city to wed the two wings of the republican party.

The two state committees met at 10 o'clock. Mr. Filley, who entered the hall a little before 11 o'clock, was received with loud applause. There were about 300 gentlemen present, a large proportion of whom belonged to the Van Horn faction.

At 11 o'clock, Mr. Filley arose and addressed the meeting. He said that the meeting was assembled pursuant to a call issued by the State Central Committee, for the purpose of agreeing upon a course to be pursued by the republican party of the state, in the interest of harmony and the success of the republican party. Notwithstanding the efforts which had been made by the regular republican committee of the state every obstacle had been placed in the way of the unity of the party by a mere fragment of the republicans of the state. This committee represents the republican party of the state, and it is safe to say that it is endorsed by ninety percent of the republicans of Missouri.

The roll was then called, and when the name of R. C. Crowell was reached Mr. Filley asked him whether he was a member of the regular or the silk stocking committee?

I am a republican of the old eighth congressional district and have been elected a member of the State central committee. I know of nobody who has a right to represent the republicans of my district unless I have.

Mr. Filley—I simply want to know whether you are a member of this committee or not?

Crowell—I deny your right to ask this question.

Filley—Then I understand that you desire to act with this committee. That is right; we want you here. We want all of these gentlemen who pledged themselves in this hall August 24th, 1882, to stand by this committee, and who afterwards left us to come here. This is the place for them.

[Applause.]

Mr. Crowell, at the conclusion of the roll call, said he had not heard the name of his old colleague called.

Mr. Filley—Mr. Harrison's name has been called. He has been made a substitute for your old colleague.

Mr. Crowell—I deny the right of Mr. Harrison to take his place on this floor as a delegate from my district. I have in my pocket a proxy from my colleague.

Mr. Filley—Nothing having been heard from your colleague since last October the committee last night elected Mr. Harrison to take his place, and I will therefore recognize Mr. Harrison.

Mr. Crowell—I appeal from the decision of the chair.

Mr. Filley—It is out of order, but I will let the meeting settle it.

Mr. Crowell's appeal received his own only.

Subsequently Mr. Crowell withdrew and Mr. Althoff, editor of the German paper at Sedalia, was elected to fill the vacancy.

Crowell in withdrawing told the gentleman if they wanted harmony to all go to the Sedalia convention and settle their differences there. It is very improbable there will be any unity and the chances are that the Filley filibusters will all convene at Sedalia in the latter part of April.

The Hatch trial was in progress to-day at J. C. Thompson of Sedalia, was on the stand.

A DESTRUCTIVE BLAZE.

The most destructive fire ever known in St. Louis occurred this evening. It was owing to the fact that East St. Louis has no fire department the flames had full sway, the result being the destruction of $200,000 or more of property—though at this time no exact estimate can be given.

The conflagration commenced about 6:30 o'clock, and originated in a barber shop in old row of frame buildings, situated between the Chicago & Alton and Ohio & Mississippi railroad yards, and from there communicated to the stables of the St. Louis Baggage and Transfer company and Elevator "A," the latter containing 300,000 bushels of corn, 60,000 of wheat, and 10,000 of oats. The freight of the Chicago & Alton road, together with a number of cars, ignited, and so in a few minutes the heat little could be done to saving the property. Six burning houses, however, drawn out to Cove on, where they were the scene of igniting a number of the Ohio & Mississippi track, spreading still further the disaster. It is estimated that about 140 bushels of which were laden, were saved. Elevator "A" was one of the first to be destroyed, and had a capacity of a million bushels. The total losses, roughly estimated to-night, are:

Elevator building.....$200,000

and freight.....200,000

roads and buildings.....100,000

lost property, etc.....50,000

Total.....$650,000

It is impossible, however, to give any like correct figures.

Arm Crushed Off.

to the Bazar.

RICH HILL, Mo., March 13.

A young man named George Chambers, man on a freight train, had his left arm crushed off at 8:25 to-night by a car at Ovid, a small station on the Lexington & Southern railroad.

Living Curiosities.

A representative of the Bazar had the pleasure, on the occasion of a recent visit to the capital of Missouri, to meet, en route, a number of living curiosities, whom he embraced the occasion to interview briefly.

"The midget," who has recently been an attraction with the "Dime museum" at Kansas City, after spending a week with her family at California, will proceed to Columbus, Ohio, where she will join Sells Brothers' circus, with which aggregation she will travel this season.

Rose Lesley, late of the Kansas City museum, goes to Belleville, Ill., at which point she will join the Doris circus. She will be one of the side-show attractions, being a fat girl weighing 520 pounds. She is but twenty-three years of age, and her husband is a lion tamer.

Carrie Atkins, the handsome fat girl, who joined Jim Robinson's circus ten years ago in Sedalia, will visit friends in California for the next ten days. She weighs 210 pounds and is consequently more than a yard wide, but is only 27 years old, but what is more remarkable is only thirty-six inches high.

All these curiosities will take a rest for the present, but will doubtless be on the road again this season.

TIPTON ITEMS.

—Business is good and the weather is bad.

—Marnaduke and Gentry stock is 20 percent above par and still advancing.

—The Rose Lisle company played at City hall Friday and Saturday nights.

—Major Eschschmied was on our streets yesterday looking after his insurance interests.

—The contract for a fine hotel has been let, stimulated by the building of the Hotel Kaiser, of your city.

—Miss Paulina Booth, one of Boonville's most charming young ladies, passed through our city yesterday for her home, from a three months' visit to New York city.

—A public meeting is called for the 27th of this month, in the interest of rock roads. Our people are taking a lively interest in this much needed enterprise.

—Dr. Brooks has come and gone. The same old song on prohibition, with the addition of a few snappy jokes. My advice to the reverend doctor is to pool issues with H. Martin Williams, and go into politics, where he properly belongs.

—Our circuit court is in session. The great sensational trial of Carpenter vs. Snorgrass, for ten thousand dollars damage, has closed, with a verdict for the defendant.

Mr. Carpenter was represented by Col. Snoddy, of Sedalia, L. F. Woods and C. M. Gordon of California. Mr. Snorgrass' interests were taken care of by Mr. Drift and Mr. Williams, of Boonville, D. E. Gray, of Versailles, and Hazell & Burk, of California. This case came from Morgan county to Booneville, and the talent arrayed against each other was like the battle of the giants. Your correspondent heard the argument made by Mr. Williams and Col. Snoddy. Mr. Williams seemed to anticipate his adversary, that is, make Col. Snoddy's speech and his own. The effect was wonderful. Col. Snoddy closed the argument in behalf of his client with a fine burst of eloquence, but he seemed to be on the wrong side of the case. Mr. Snorgrass was congratulated by his many friends, in fact the ovation continued after he arrived at Tipton. Mr. Snorgrass is one of Morgan county's most prominent stock men, and has friends too numerous to count.

GEORGETOWN GOSSIP.

Correspondence of the Bazar.

—Miss Mary Hammond is reported to be quite sick.

—Yesterday being a balmy day nearly every one turned out to hear Rev. Daniels preach.

—Mr. Fullerton and son have bought and fitted up the store formerly owned by Mr. Basy, and have laid in quite a large stock of dry goods and groceries.

—Last Friday Mr. Taylor brought suit against Mr. Carpenter, a washing machine agent. Mr. Taylor charges Mr. Carpenter with absconding with one wringer valued at $4 and an extension bit valued at $2.50. After quite a lively contest Mr. Taylor gained the case.

—Fly's Cream Balm cured me of catarrh of many years standing—restored my sense of smell. For colds in the head it works like magic.—E. H. Sherwood, National State bank, Elizabeth, N. J. [Easy to use. See adv.]

For several years I was troubled with catarrh, have tried many remedies, Fly's Cream Balm has proved the article desired. I believe it is the only cure.—L. B. Coburn, Hardware Merchant, Towanda, Pa. [See adv.]

I had suffered from Catarrh for ten years; the pain would be so severe that I was obliged to send for a doctor. I had entirely lost sense of smell. Fly's Cream Balm has worked a miracle.—C. S. Halley, Birmingham, N. Y.

Fly's cream balm has cured me of Catarrh. Was afflicted ten years. I tried almost every remedy recommended, none proved effective and thorough.—S. K. Aiken, wholesaler of shoes, 143 Federal street, Boston, Mass.

Piles! Piles!! Piles!!!

Sure cure for Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles. One box has cured the worst cases of twenty years' standing. No one need suffer five minutes of pain using William's Indian Pile Ointment. It is a sure cure, gives instant relief. Prepared only for Piles, itching of the private parts, nothing else. Hon. J. M. Coffeybury, of Cleveland, says: "I have used scores of Pile cures, and it affords me pleasure to say that I have never found anything which gives such immediate and permanent relief as Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment." Sold by druggists and mailed on receipt of price, $1. R. B. Hostetter, Sedalia, Mo.

JEFFERSON CITY.

George Dunn, the Saline County Murderer, in Jail at Jefferson City.

The State School Moneys Apportioned to the Counties Entitled Thereto.

Special to the Bazar.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 12.

In the United States district court yesterday, A. J. Archison was convicted of robbing the mails and was remanded for sentence. The crime for which he was tried was committed on the 9th of last October. He had a contract for carrying the mails between Ocala, St. Clair county, and Stockton, Cedar county, and on the day mentioned above the pouch containing the mail was rifled of a package of money containing $340. Either on claim that he was stopped by three men who went through the contents of the bag and after taking the money packages allowed him to proceed on his way unharmed. This story was believed until suspicions were aroused by the finding of the money secreted in the woods near the place where the robbery was alleged to have occurred. The case was put in the hands of the special agents of the post office department, and sufficient evidence of the suspected man's guilt was collected to bring an indictment with the above result.

DUNN IN JAIL.

The marshal of the supreme court brought from Saline county yesterday morning, George Dunn, who is under a sentence of ten years for murder in the second degree.

Dunn's crime was the killing of Frank Edwards on the 20th day of August, 1882, at the town of Slater, Saline county. He was indicted and tried for murder in the second degree at the September term of court following the killing. They jury disagreed and the case went over until the next term of court, which was in March, 1883, when he was again indicted, this time for murder in the first degree, the parties time and place being the same as the former. The first indictment was then quashed by order of the court. A motion to quash the new indictment was filed by the defendant, and also a special plea; both were overruled. The case again went to trial, and again the jury disagreed. The case again was tried at the following September term of court, and this time resulted in a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree. Motion for new trial, and arrest of judgment, were overruled, and the case was brought to the supreme court, where the sentence of the lower court was affirmed on Monday last.
